A Day in the Life of Dr. Patel

Hello, everyone! I am Dr. Patel. I work at the hospital. Every morning, I wake up early and run in the park. The park is nice, and the air is fresh.

After my run, I go to the hospital. I walk past the supermarket. Sometimes, I buy food there. Then, I take the bus to work. The bus stop is near the hospital.

At the hospital, I see many patients. I talk to them about their health. Sometimes, I help them with medicine. Other times, I write reports.

In the afternoon, I take a break. I walk to the café. I sit outside and drink coffee. I watch people and listen to the city.

In the evening, I go home. I live near the park. My wife cooks dinner. She's a good cook! After dinner, I watch TV. Then, I sleep.

That's my day. I like my job. Helping people is nice. I hope you liked my story!

That's my routine, and right now, I am walking home from work.
