5. Read the descriptions and match them to one of the four seasons (spring, summer, autumn, winter).

Season:

In this season it gets a little hotter, snow melts, and nature wakes up from winter. Flowers open, birds sing, and many animals are born. The weather is sunny and warm but not too hot. There are many fun festivals around the world at this time.

Season:

In this season, weather gets a little colder. Leaves begin to change colour and fall, and days get a little shorter, and many animals prepare for winter. The weather is often windy and cloudy.

Season:

In this season, the weather is hot and sunny most of the time. Many people go to the beach or swimming pool, but the sun can be dangerous in this season, so you should wear a hat and sunscreen. The days are longest at this time.

Season:

This season is usually very cold, dark, and cloudy. People usually stay inside, and if they go outside, they wear warm jackets and pants. In some countries it is snowy in this season. Many trees have no leaves at this time.

 6. Listen to the man talking about the seasons in Australia and answer the questions.

- What is his favourite season?
- Why doesn't he like December, January, and February?
- How is the weather in Australia in summer?
- What months are autumn in Australia?
- How is the weather in winter in Australia?
- What does he do in winter?

7. Write a short description of the seasons in your country. How is the weather, what seasons do you like and dislike, and what do you do in each season?
